The next game in the local rink will be with Richmond to-morrow night. This is the game which was postponed a short time ago owing to the nonarrival of the Quaker quintet. The amateur game on that night will be between the Barrister and Habich teams, two of the best clubs in the Commercial League. On Saturday night Kahns. of the Indianapolis Commercial League, will play the B. & G. team of Elwood in the Auditorium as a curtain raiser to the Indianapolis-Elwood game.

President Bement will have his list of empires ready for announcement when the magnates meet in South Bend next month. It is understood that Dan Daub and Kiefer will be among the four men selected. Both ex-players did remarkably well last year. J. R. Johnson, of Cincinnati, O., has been signed by Jack Grim to play second base

Richmond Fans Quitting. Special to the Indiapapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Feb. 16.-The local fans are not pleased with the record the Richmond polo team is making. Richmond continues in the first division and has won a fair proportion of the games, but the play of late has been decidedly off color and games have been lost that the fans helieve should have been won e sily. There seems to be a lettting down on the part of the Quakers and there is a loss to account for it. Bone is not keeping up his record as a goal getter and Cunningham has proved slow in a number of games at sec will get together and redeem thomselves this week. It cannot be said that there is much confidence here in Richmond being able to land the pennant, although there was much confidence of that nature early

The speedy Indian quintet defeated Marion last night by a score of 6 to 4 after the latter team had lost one goal on fouls. Indianapolis played another magnificent game of polo and was fully entitled to the hard-

The game was rough throughout. Halfback Cameron, of Marion, was the chief offender in the roughing line, and a fine of $2 was assessed against him in addition to Olle. rant, of the local five. Fox and Tarrant mixed near the close of the second period and both fell to the floor. Fox was the aggressor and was penalized by Referee Murphy.

The fifteen hundred fans were continually on their feet cheering the wonderful floor work of Pierce and McGilvray. Tarrant missed several excellent chances, but the little rusher has played in but few games this season and has not yet struck his gait. O'Hara played another great game at half back, and Bannon made many stops | HIPSON'S MEN LOSE that were little short of marvelous. If McGilvray's men keep on playing the polo they played last night the flag should on form land in Indianapolis, notwithstanding the present standing of the Indians in the race for the championship. The players are individually showing more vim and spirit than has been seen on the local floor at any time this season and they now play with the old "do or die" spirit which has been successful in so many contests of skill and endurance, After the Marion aggregation had caged three goals in the first period the hopes of the fans was noticeably drooping and for a time the cheers sounded fainter. Their spirits raised slightly when O'Hara carried the ball down the floor and landed it in the Marion net on a short drive. Pierce scored the next tally in twenty-eight seconds and the crowd became mere hopeful. The first inning closed with the Indians one score to

The first nine minutes of play in the second period were lightning fast and the bleacherites rose as one when Tarrant tallied in 9:48, taking a flying pass from Captain McGilvray. Pierce quickly followed, counting in twenty-three seconds, the pass being from Tarrant. This was the last score in the second period and the Indians were one to the good Before Lewis counted in 7:35 for Marion at the start of the third period, Captain Jean's men had lost one marker on three fouls. Pierce then caged the ball after one of the prettiest exhibitions of floorwork witnessed in this or any other rink. He carried the sphere the entire length of the floor, through the opposing defense and scored on a short drive in 3:40. Tarrant White E. 1. 2. 3. then counted in 1:05 on a pass from Mc-Phelan137 166 154 Gilvray. Lewis caged the last tally in 2:35, Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ELWOOD, Ind., Feb. 16.-Referee Waller lost the good graces of Elwood fans tonight by calling a foul in goal on White when the Elwood goal tend was four feet out of the goal circle at the time the offense, which consisted of striking the ball with his hand, occurred. The demonstration against him took on renewed intensity when he refused to call a palpable foul in goal by Jessup. The game abounded in fast, rough play, Mansfield being guilty of the usual riding. Spencer was off the floor part of the game, O'Malley taking his place. Mansfield and Doherty were both off for short intervals with broken skates.

GENERAL KOUROPATKIN FOREMOST FIGHTER

one tally on a foul in goal committed by Russia's War Chief Was Skobeleff's Right-Hand Man at Plevna and Also in Asia.

PARIS, Feb. 16.-The following is a brief Russia's land forces in the East in the war: It is safe to say that not Russia alone but the great globe itself, contains no man so thoroughly equipped in every branch of military knowledge as Gen. Alexei Nicholavitch Kouropatkin, who since 1898 has been minister of war in the Russian em-

Educated in the theory of arms at the best of the Russian military schools, trained to practice under the greatest of modern Russian warriors, Gen. Mikhael Skobeleff, he made a glorious record in every important Russian war since 1866, and worked his way up from sublicutenant in that year to the command of the army in 1897.

Nor is this the sum total of his accomplishments. His monographs on the chief episodes of the Balkan campaign are acknowledged classics, his books on "Algeria" and "Kashgaria" have been crowned by the Imperial Geographical Society, his essays are recognized authorities on every point of strategy, his proficiency as an instructor of youth has been demonstrated in the technical schools, his executive abilities have been put to the severest and most successful tests in the governorship of the transcaspian district and in the operous office which he occupies at present, and he has worn more decorations than any one breast could wear at any one time. Like most Russian officers, he comes from the ancient nobility. For centuries his family has played a leading part in the local government of Pskoff, where their ancestral estates are situated. Here he was born on March 17, 1848. After completing the courses of the Cadet Corps School and of the Imperial Military College in St. Petersburg, he obtained a commission as sublicutenant in the Turkestan Rifles. He was then only eighteen. The various tribes and nations which occupied the vast territory then known simply as Turkestan were in a condition of wild disorder, and were united only in a common hatred for the Christians. DECORATED BY FRANCE. In June, 1864, an expedition under General Chernaleff had been sent into that portion of what is now West Turkestan, which lay just across the then borders of Asiatic Russia. Tashkend had fallen in June, 1865. Just before Kouropatkin's arrival on the scene the important victory of Irjan had been won by 8,000 Russians over 40,000 Bokharans, under their Emir. Kouropatkin participated in all the subsequent hostilities, which culminated in the capture of Samarcand, the Emir's capital. A treaty was concluded which left Bokhara politically free, but transferred Samarcand to Russia Kouropatkin returned to St. Petersburg with the rank of lieutenant, to continue his military studies in the academy of the general staff. In 1871, as the most brilliant graduate of the academy, he was sent abroad to study military conditions in various European countries. In France President MacMahon invited him to take part in the maneuvers at Metz. Here he displayed such strategic ability that he was decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor, being the first Russian to win that distinction. He was in Algiers with the French General Laverdeau in 1874, and there accumulated the materials for his first book. "Algeria," which was published in 1877. In 1876 he was back again in Turkestan, assisting General Skobeleff in the conquest of Khokand. This province was annexed hana. Skobeleff was appointed Governor, with Kouropatkin as his chief of staff. War with Turkey broke out on April 24. 1877. Skobeleff and Kouropatkin were summoned back to Russia. Constantinople was to be taken. Consulted by Czar Alexander II as to how long it would take to reduce the Turcomans to submission, he replied, "Three

"That is too long," said the Czar. He recalled Tergoukasoff and put Skobeleff in his place. Skobeleff, of course, secured Kouropatkin for his chief of staff. In less than three months these two performed the feat which Tergoukasoff said would take three years, and Lord Salisbury a lifetime. For his services he was promoted to the rank of major general. From 1883 to 1890 he was engaged on the general staff and especially in the work of reorganizing the

On March 27, 1890, he was appointed Governor of the transcaspian district and commander and completed by peaceful means the work which he had begun by conquest, He succeeded in pacifying the Turcoman hordes who formerly roamed unchecked over the wilds of central Asia; he introduced modern inventions into the villages and cities, opened schools everywhere, built railroads and manned them with Russlan officials. Finally, on Jan. 1, 1898, he became minister of war of the Russian Empire.

RUSSIANS NOT PRESENT AT QUILL CLUB DINNER

Staved Away Because Americans Are Said to Be Hostile to Them.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.-The intention of the Quill Club to hold a symposium of representatives of Russia and Japan at the dinner of the club to-night at the Manhattan Hotel was frustrated by the absence of the Russian guests. They were Count Loby Russia under the new name of Ferg- dyzensky, Russian consul general in this city, Count Paul Tiesenhausen and Baron

Schilling. It was said that they were absent under orders from Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador at Washington. S. Uchida, the Japanese consul general in this city, was present. It was declared after the dinner count of the feeling in Russia that this country is hostile to its interests in the present difficulty. Champion Ansons Defeated.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 .- The Ansons, winners of the national championship at Cleveland for the five-men teams, were defeated here to-night in a match with the New Yorks. Five games were played, and the New Yorks finished 102 pins in the lead. This was accomplished by the excellent work of Voorhees and Smith who rolled 266 and 256 respectively in the third game. ties in the academy. Again troubles broke | The Ansons won three of the games, the out in Turkestan. Russia, still smarting New Yorks one and one was a tie. The total score follows: New Yorks, 4,663; Ansons,
